

Red Mountain Elementary

Title I Parent Information

RMES is a Title I school. That means our school receives additional funding and support for academic programs that other schools do not have. Title I is a federal program through ESSA, the Every Student Succeeds Act.

60% is the Goal

- 55% -Percentage of Free/Reduced lunch cost we had last year
- Currently we are UNDER the 60% benchmark for continued Title I funding

Please help our school to continue receiving critical Title I funds by filling out the Free/Reduced Lunch application. The following link will take you to the application form: <https://washk12.org/food-service/free-and-reduced>

We are on temporary Title I status and lost out on $200,000 of funding

Lost a teacher and several paras who were paid through this funding

Communication

During the school year, you will be receiving:

- information through flyers sent home about our school's performance and progress
- how our students have done on annual testing compared to how they have done in the past
- how they rank against other students in our school district and state

This information will also be posted on our school website.

As a parent, you have the right to request information:

- about your child's teacher's professional qualifications
- about our school's para-professionals

All teachers at our school have been certified by the state of Utah as highly qualified and all of our classroom aides have been certified to work with elementary children. The teachers at our preschools have all been trained to work with young children and each has received certification with their Child Development Associate.

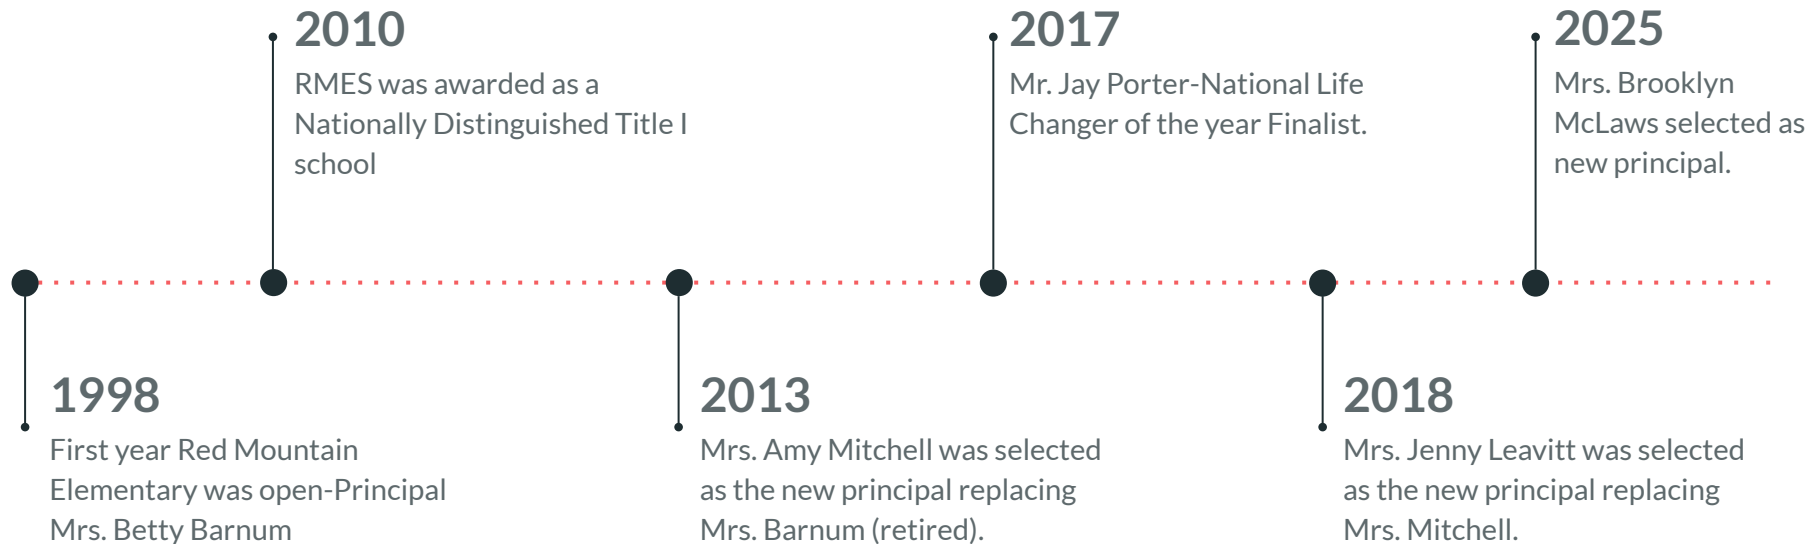

Student Education Plan (SEP) Conferences

During SEP conferences, scheduled for September 24-25, you will receive information about your child's academic performance.

Each child will have the option to have an appointment time so that you and your child can meet individually with your teacher to discuss strengths, yearly progress, and needs and goals specific to your child. Both day and evening appointments will be available to accommodate different family schedules.

If you have any questions about Title I, your child's teacher, paraprofessionals working with your child or any other school program, please contact me, or Mrs. McLaws, in person, by letter or email. We look forward to working with you and your children this year.

Our story

Staff members paid/supported through Title I Funds

Due to temporary Title I status we were not able to hire more paras to support students at RMES. Mr. Dixon is paid through district funding.
